Robert Cunningham and Robert Cohen

Cunningham: noted for doing extended labs on the boiling and freezing of water

Famous for their file cabinet fortress, where they actually live, and from which they emerge only to teach

Desks and furniture in both classrooms MUST always be oriented at right angles to each other and ALWAYS equally spaced

Cohen: master of the chemistry pun

Dr. Robert Weintraub, Headmaster

Dear Members of the Class of 2003,

Every year I write a brief message to the graduating class. I always tell them they are a great class because they always are. You are a great class because you represent the two defining characteristics of a Brookline High class — very high achievement and good citizenship. You also allow me to say that we are a laboratory for the future of a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic, multi-racial world. Your respectfulness within our very diverse community is a model for the rest of the world.

And, I thank you (and Dean Underwood) for allowing me to be in your senior picture. That was a first.

I will miss you. Always consider Brookline High one of your homes. Come back and visit us.

With great affection,

Dr. (Bob) Weintraub

To the CLASS of 2003

It's been said that it takes a village to raise a child. We villagers, having watched your growth and development, are proud to have been a part of your journey. As you move on, we are rest assured that the future is yours and that we will be in good hands. For our final lesson, we leave you a poem by Veronica A. Shoffstall

After a while, you learn the subtle difference Between holding a hand and chaining a soul,
And you learn that love doesn't mean leaning
And company doesn't mean security,
And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts
And presents aren't promises, And you begin to accept your defeats
With your head up and your eyes open
With the grace of an (adult), not the grief of a child,
And you learn to build all your roads on today Because tomorrow's ground is too uncertain for plans.
And futures have a way of falling down in midflight.
After a while, you learn That even sunshine burns if you get too much.
So you plant your own garden and decorate your own soul, Instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.
And you learn that you really can endure...
That you really are strong.
And you really do have worth.
And you learn and learn...
With every goodbye you learn.

You have always helped and guided me for as long as I can remember. When I was little I watched with wonder as you worked so hard and never let anything bring you down. I have always looked up to you. And yes, you have set the bar pretty high for me. I will miss you when you leave for college, but remember to enjoy it while it lasts; time passes by so quickly. Be proud of your achievements, Soph, you deserve the glory. Don't let anyone or anything change you: the whole family loves you for who you are — a fun-loving, spontaneous, hyper, and caring daughter, sister, and friend. Rock on!
